Still Remain In Hands of Allies

CUPAR, Scotland, March 5.

There are two keys to the world war position, said former i remis-Herbert H. Asquith in an address to his constituents here today. These keys are the command of he sea and of the western front. Both, he said, after all vicinsitudes, still remain in the hands of the entente ailles.

"While it is impossible to a ert our eyes from the tregedy unfolding in Itussia and the formifolding in Russia and the formi-dable dangers that tragedy has revesled," he said, "these dan-gers de not give us apprehension. There are two important factors in the situation. First, Russia as an effective military factor has been wiped off the slate; second, the German procedure in the se-called negotiations with Russia and the light they have thrown and the light they have throws upon the minds and methods of Germany's present rulers. There rarely has been a more instructive contrast between pretention and intension." Referring to the speech of Imperial Chancellor von Hertling Mr. Asquith said:

Mr. Asquith said:

"The very moment he was making his address, his subordinates were writing terms, not of peace, but of capitulation as harsh and humilating as could be found in the annals of history. Districts in the Black sea and in the Caucasus were to be handed back to share with Armenia the horrors. casus were to be handed back to share with Armenia the horrors and desolation of Turkish rule. Could any one doubt after that the fate of Beigium if Germany, was ever able to dictate to the western powers after the pattern set at Brest-Litovsk. "It is not by such roads that a clean peace is attainable. The so-called treaty of Brest-Litovsk was everything that an international compact ought not to ne. The only peace worth having must be a peace, not of milers or parliaments, but of peoples."
